WEEKS CALLED BEFORE PROBERS

Papers He Is Said to Have Seized Also Subpoenaed.

CAPTAIN VOLANDT QUIZZED

Papers Are Alleged to Have Shown Irregularities in Repayment of Claims in Connection With War Fraud Cases—Former Alien Property Custodian Assailed by Witness at the Hearing.

Washington, April 4.—Secretary of War Weeks has been summoned to appear before the senate committee investigating the record of former Attorney General Daugherty.

A subpoena also was issued for certain papers said to have been "seized" by Weeks when new testimony was given involving the war department in alleged war fraud cases.

Senator Wheeler called to the stand Captain William F. Volandt of the air service and demanded that he hand over records of Thomas F. Lane, former legal adviser in the war department. "Secretary Weeks has taken those papers and he told me to inform you that if you want them you will have to subpoena them from him," Volandt said.

Lane testified the papers were his personal records showing irregularities in repayment of claims in "connection with the war fraud cases." Volandt claimed the papers were official records of the department. Volandt admitted he had ordered Lane to "stay away from the Daugherty investigating committee." "I told him to wait until he was subpoenaed," Volandt said.

Lane was suspended last Saturday. He told the committee that it was because he refused to obey orders to "keep away from the Brookhart committee and the capitol."

The papers were records in investigations by Lane in connection with Rosch Magneto, Standard Aircraft and Wright-Martin war fraud cases.

Lane, in his testimony, assailed A. Mitchell Palmer, former alien property custodian, for sale of the Bosch Magneto property for $4,150,000. "It should not have been sold for $12,000,000," said Lane.

Lane said he took records in the Bosch case to Assistant Attorney General John W. H. Crim and Crim said it was the "rottenest" case he ever saw. Crim, he said, promised immediate action "on this great fraud." The witness said the department of justice had done nothing to this day so far as he knew.

Lane said sale of $2,000,000 of government securities by the Bosch Magneto corporation was "through the brokerage firm of Hornblower & Weeks." Secretary of War Weeks was a member of that firm. He was not, however, secretary of war at that time, according to Lane.

Lane also said he investigated alleged overpayments in the Lincoln Motor company and recommended a refund to the government of $5,000,000. He said that the department of justice, however, settled for $1,550,000.

AS PEPPER SEES IT

Appointment of Fall, Daugherty and Forbes Held "Terrible Mistakes."

Portland, Me., April 4.—Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania, in a "keynote speech" on behalf of the Coolidge administration, attributed Republican mistakes to the late President Harding and absolved President Coolidge of all blame. He told the Republican convention that the appointment of Colonel Charles Forbes as head of the veterans' bureau and Albert B. Fall as interior secretary were "terrible mistakes," and that Harry M. Daugherty's selection as attorney general was "a grave error in judgment." When I said this," Pepper said, "I am speaking of the mistakes not of the living, but of the dead." Pepper added that Democrats, in endeavoring to discredit the Republican party, has discredited both parties, "to such an extent that an irresponsible and highly dangerous third party is actually suggesting itself to some extremists as a practical possibility."

Bandit Robs Woman.

Cleveland, April 4.—A gunman held up Mrs. Adele Curtiss of New York city and robbed her of her automobile, $20 in cash, $400 in travelers' checks and a $300 diamond pin. Mrs. Curtiss said she stopped when the bandit held up his hand, believing he wished to ask road directions. The man ordered her to get out and then drove her car away.

TOWER PLAN OPPOSED

Columbus Business Men Against Re-modeling of State House.

Columbus, April 4.—Following a report by State Auditor Tracy, member of the state building commission, that replies to questionnaires sent by the commission to 60 state senators and representatives, asking their views on the new office building, showing two to one in favor of a tower on the state house, the Columbus chamber of commerce planned to renew its fight against the tower proposal. Only three representatives were unalterably opposed to the proposal, Tracy said. The chamber of commerce still favors a Third street site. The building commission meets next week to receive a report from State Architect Briggs giving the recommendations of the advisory committee of architects as to the best plan for building on the state house grounds and the best plan for building adjacent to the present grounds.

OPPOSES REVISION OF FREIGHT RATES

Esch Says It Should Be Undertaken Only When Needed.

Washington, April 4.—Commissioner Esch of the interstate commerce commission expressed opposition to a general revision of railroad freight rates.

Esch, who appeared before the house interstate commerce committee, declared a general overhauling should be undertaken only if it were needed so urgently as to justify possible disruption of business which might result.

Esch said: "The only inference fairly to be drawn from the revival of industry and its operation at full vigor for nearly a year without a general shift in freight rates, is that recent experience does not demonstrate the necessity for any such shifts."

The committee was told that the commission was making rate adjustments, when it was shown that discrimination existed and it was contended by Mr. Esch that in this way the freight rates problem could best be handled.

Denounces Anti-War Drive.

Indianapolis, April 4.—Garland W. Powell, director of the national Americanism commission of the American Legion, warned legionnaires against a national anti-war campaign greeted by the Women's Peace society, enrolling young and old by signing pledges "not to aid directly the United States government in event of any war." Mr. Powell asserted the movement is finding fertile field among school children and in Bible classes, and urged every American to attend the meetings and present the patriotic side of the question.

Retired Farmer a Suicide.

Columbus, April 4.—John Bartlett, 79, a retired farmer, took his own life by hanging himself in a shed in the rear of his home at Grove City, this county. Bartlett's body was found by his son when he returned from school.

CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES URGED

Tax Association's Committee Holds Public Hearing.

FINAL MEETING ON APRIL 22

Committee to Set to Work After Above Date and Draft Proposed Constitutional Amendment—Proposals Received From Representatives of State Grange and Cleveland Building Owners' Association.

Columbus, April 4.—Constitutional changes were proposed at the public hearing here of the advisory committee of the Ohio Tax association.

A final hearing will be held in this city on April 22, the committee decided, after which the committee will set to work to draft a proposed constitutional amendment.

C. A. Dyer, representing the State Grange, presented three constitutional changes as follows:

Adoption of a section that will prohibit the issuance of bonds or notes for current expenses, and to limit the length of time for which bonds may be issued to the estimated life of the improvement for which such bonds are issued; create a section providing budget commissions for taxing districts by means of which expenditure of public funds can be regulated, and amend the taxation section of the present constitution by exempting motor vehicles from taxation by uniform rule and providing for their licensing and taxation by the legislature, also for exempting intangible property from taxation by uniform rule and imposing minimum rates on such property according to its value and upon its income.

H. W. Flack, representing the Cleveland Building Owners' and Managers' association, filed a brief, recommending the following: All property should be taxed; intangible wealth should be considered property; all real property should be taxed by a uniform rule, according to value; other property should be taxed by a uniform rule as to kind or class and on ability to pay; exemptions permitted under present constitution should not be added to; all forms of double taxation should be prohibited; the legislature should pass laws establishing maximum rates for municipalities and for districts outside municipalities, such rates, however, to be subject to the approval of the people.

OHIO MAN HELD

In Connection With Murder and Robbery of Chicago Druggist.

Chicago, April 4.—Russell Scott, 22, Cleveland, O., was arrested here on the charge of killing Joseph Maurer, 20, clerk, in the sensational holdup of a drug store here. Police said Scott admitted participating in the holdup, but charged his brother, Robert, with doing the shooting. The drug store is located across the street from the city hall and the robbery and killing occurred while thousands of homework bound theatergoers streamed past the doors. Maurer, the clerk, was shot down when he refused to tell the robbers the combination to the safe. Scores of persons, attracted by the shots, pressed against the windows. But the bandits worked on prying open the safe and secured $500. Then, guns in hand, they ran out of the store and made their escape.

CHARGED WITH BUCKETING

Four Members of Brokerage Firm That Failed Are Indicted.

New York, April 4.—Charged with trading against orders of clients, four members of the firm of E. W. Wagner & Company were indicted on 30 counts by the grand jury that has been investigating the $10,000,000 failure of the brokerage firm in December, 1921. Those indicted were: E. W. Wagner, head of the firm; Frank W. Donaldson, head of the Chicago branch; Charles A. Johnson, head of the New York office, and Ernest Titjens, chief financial adviser. The company had 26 branches throughout the country and two offices in New York. The main office was in Chicago.

Auto Goes Into Creek.

Cincinnati, April 4.—Joseph Miller, 30, was instantly killed; Henry Bryant, 64, received injuries which probably will result in his death, and William Prather, 48, was slightly hurt, when an auto which Miller was driving plunged over a 30-foot embankment into Duck creek, east of the city. Prather is held on a charge of intoxication.

DOINGS IN OHIO

Attend Corn Borer Parley.

Cleveland, April 4.—Charles V. Pruax, state director of agriculture, and Richard Faxon, chief of the division of plant industry, are attending a corn borer conference here. Last year 11 counties in northern Ohio were quarantined because of infestation from this insect pest, and the state department of agriculture maintained as high as 137 men on 21 different lines as patrol deputies. The purpose of this conference is to lay plans for the coming season and to impress on the public the danger from the European corn borer.

Youth Shot; Suspect Held.

Cincinnati, April 4.—William Kettenacker, 16, was injured by a stray bullet and a colored suspect narrowly escaped serious injury at the hands of a mob following the alleged theft of a shirt by the negro in a store here. The suspect is registered as Chesler Rankin, 19. Police were informed the youth ran from a store with the shirt, pursued by Joseph Eckert, 29. During the chase, Eckert fired at Rankin. Kettenacker was struck in the left leg by a stray bullet.

McGahan Taken to Dayton.

Toledo, April 4.—George (Red) McGahan of Columbus was taken to Dayton to face trial on the charge of robbing the West Carrollton (O.) bank. Federal Judge Killets set aside the sentence of two years in federal prison and a fine of $8,000 imposed upon McGahan two weeks ago for his part in a Delta, (O.) bank robbery, thus blocking McGahan's efforts to stop proceedings at Dayton.

Funds Recovered.

Columbus, April 4.—Attorney General Crabbe notified Governor Donahy that the state has recovered funds embezzled by L. P. Stevenson, financial clerk in the state architect's office, through converting state vouchers to his own use. Recovery was made from bondsmen and persons who cashed vouchers for Stevenson. Amount of Stevenson's peculations was about $3,300.

Car Fare Raised.

Lorain, O., April 4.—Lorain city car fares were boosted from 5 to 6 cents, with five tickets for 25 cents. This is in accordance with a new 25-year charter recently granted the traction company.

Truck Driver Shot.

Springfield, O., April 4.—Mulford Bickle, mail truck driver, was accidentally shot in the leg at the Big Four station here, when a revolver in a holster he was wearing was discharged.

Woman Killed.

Youngstown, O., April 4.—An unidentified woman was killed by a Youngstown-New Castle interurban car on a trestle near Struthers.

Rejects Capital Levy Policy.

London, April 4.—The house of commons rejected the policy of a capital levy, the chief labor plank in the last election, by a vote of 325 to 163. Action came on a Conservative motion, designed to force the government to define its attitude on the question.

Births Exceed Deaths.

Paris, April 4.—France's natural increase in population in 1923 was 94,000, according to the official vital statistics just published here. The births numbered 761,000 against 759,000 in the preceding year, while there were 667,000 deaths against 689,000 in 1922.

FIVE MEN LIKELY TO BE CITED

Figured in Senate Oil Committee's Investigation.

UP TO FEDERAL GRAND JURY

Committee's Report Will Condemn Policies Followed Concerning Leasing of Naval Reserves and Recommend Remedial Legislation—Ohio Publisher Summoned to Appear Before the Committee.

Washington, April 4.—The federal grand jury which meets here April 10 will be entrusted with criminal proceedings against at least five men whose names have figured in the senate investigation of naval oil reserve leases.

The inquiry is drawing to a close and the committee will soon begin the work of drafting its report. The report will condemn policies followed with respect to the leasing of naval reserves, and amendments to the leasing law and probably some original legislation to prevent future disposition of any part of the public resources, without a check by congress, will be recommended.

The report will apply in the main to the period since Walsh went to Palm Beach in January to question A. B. McLean. It will condemn the turning over of the naval oil lands from the navy to the interior department and the manner in which Teapot Dome and Elk Hills were leased to Sinclair and Doheny.

Robert F. Wolfe, Columbus publisher, and J. B. French of Oklahoma City, were summoned by the committee. Senator Walsh will question both in connection with reported political "deals" at the 1920 Republican national convention at Chicago. Wolfe was one of the Ohio Wood leaders at the convention. French is said to have been a political associate of the late Jake Hamon.

STATE TO PROBE AFFAIR

Officials to Investigate the Sale of Poison at Toledo.

Toledo, April 4.—Inspectors from the state board of pharmacy will come to Toledo soon to investigate enforcement of laws regulating the sale of poison. They are coming at the request of Toledo druggists.

Several additional fatalities from denatured alcohol and poisoned liquor have brought the death toll to 20. One of the victims, James Carter, aged 55, died in the county jail, where he was taken after arrest as a witness in the case of Meyer Selzman, druggist, accused of selling the poison. Selzman and two clerks are held to the grand jury under bond on a manslaughter charge in connection with three of the deaths.

Wife Returns Money.

San Diego, Cal., April 4.—Mrs. Irvine R. Brown, wife of Lieutenant Brown, naval supply officer, alleged to have deserted his ship after taking $120,000 in government money, turned over $75,820 to the local naval authorities. She said she took a grip with the money in it from her husband.

Reported Members of Klan.

Hazleton, Pa., April 4.—Thirty-two members of the United Mine Workers have been cited to appear at a meeting of the local union next Wednesday to answer to the charge that they are holding membership in the Ku Klux Klan. This action was taken on order from District President Thomas Kennedy, who directed that the local unions of the section be purged of all Klan members, in accordance with the constitutional provisions of the union adopted at the recent convention.

Narrowly Escaped Death.

New York, April 4.—Laborers employed in the vehicular tunnel which is being constructed under the Hudson river between New York and New Jersey, narrowly escaped death when a quantity of rock in the roof of the tunnel was loosened by the pressure of compressed air, allowing one section of the excavation to be filled with water. Racing before the flood, the men found safety behind an emergency door. The men were working within two feet of the river bed.

German Rail Workers Strike.

Berlin, April 4.—Several thousand railroad employes have gone on strike at Hamburg, Mannheim, Elberfeld and other centers. A general walkout is threatened.

THE WEATHER.

Ohio—Saturday: Probably showers

COLLECTED COSTS

Officials of "Wayside Court" Criticized by State Examiners.

Columbus, April 4.—Officials of the village of Northfield, Summit county, operated a "wayside court" during the administration of Mayor V. S. Hubbard for the "prosecution of alleged violators of village traffic ordinances, but primarily for the personal gain of the officials," according to report filed with State Auditor Tracy by State Examiner H. D. Defenbacher and Assistant Examiner R. L. Lippen-cott. Referring to the "wayside court," the report declares it should not be "the attitude of public officials to make sure of the collection of costs, which are for their personal use, and then to give slight consideration to the assessing and collecting of fines." To support this criticism the examiners cite that of a total assessment of fines amounting to $7,169 only $787 was collected for the village, whereas "the officials collected $6,232 for themselves" in costs.

Daugherty to Speak.

Ada, O., April 4.—Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general of the United States, will deliver the commencement address at Ohio Northern university here May 28, university officials said. He also will be present for the dedication of the Warren G. Harding college of law.

WOMEN RUN TOWN

Notice Served on All Lawbreakers to Reform or Get Out.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 4.—Eva Bretz, school teacher mayor of Columbus City, Iowa, and her cabinet of women, served notice on all lawbreakers here to come into the fold or get out of town. Every elective office in town fell to the women. Two other teachers, Miss Mary Moore and Miss Nellie Moore, occupy the posts of treasurer and assessor respectively. "We shall endeavor to show how a city should be run," Mayor Bretz said. "We don't want bootleggers, petting parties, the mixing of gin with automobiles, and I am opposed to women smoking cigarettes or bobbing their hair."

Sanitarium Burns.

Lenoir, N. C., April 4.—Bodies of a man and a woman were taken from the ruins of the Broad Oaks sanitarium at Morgantown, near here, following a fire which destroyed the north wing and a part of the east wing of the sanitarium in which about 40 patients were sleeping. Property loss $50,000.

DOINGS IN OHIO

Attend Corn Borer Parley.

Cleveland, April 4.—Charles V. Pruax, state director of agriculture, and Richard Faxon, chief of the division of plant industry, are attending a corn borer conference here. Last year 11 counties in northern Ohio were quarantined because of infestation from this insect pest, and the state department of agriculture maintained as high as 137 men on 21 different lines as patrol deputies. The purpose of this conference is to lay plans for the coming season and to impress on the public the danger from the European corn borer.

Youth Shot; Suspect Held.

Cincinnati, April 4.—William Kettenacker, 16, was injured by a stray bullet and a colored suspect narrowly escaped serious injury at the hands of a mob following the alleged theft of a shirt by the negro in a store here. The suspect is registered as Chester Rankin, 19. Police were informed the youth ran from a store with the shirt, pursued by Joseph Eckert, 29. During the chase, Eckert fired at Rankin. Kettenacker was struck in the left leg by a stray bullet.

McGahan Taken to Dayton.

Toledo, April 4.—George (Red) McGahan of Columbus was taken to Dayton to face trial on the charge of robbing the West Carrollton (O.) bank. Federal Judge Kilbitt set aside the sentence of two years in federal prison and a fine of $8,000 imposed upon McGahan two weeks ago for his part in a Delta, (O.) bank robbery, thus blocking McGahan's efforts to stop proceedings at Dayton.

Funds Recovered.

Columbus, April 4.—Attorney General Crabbe notified Governor Donahue that the state has recovered funds embezzled by L. P. Stevenson, financial clerk in the state architect's office, through converting state vouchers to his own use. Recovery was made from bondsmen and persons who cashed vouchers for Stevenson. Amount of Stevenson's peculations was about $3,300.

Car Fare Raised.

Lorain, O., April 4.—Lorain city car fares were boosted from 5 to 6 cents, with five tickets for 25 cents. This is in accordance with a new 25-year charter recently granted the traction company.

Truck Driver Shot.

Springfield, O., April 4.—Mulford Bickle, mail truck driver, was accidentally shot in the leg at the Big Four station here, when a revolver in a holster he was wearing was discharged.

Woman Killed.

Youngstown, O., April 4.—An unidentified woman was killed by a Youngstown-New Castle interurban car on a trestle near Struthers.

Rejects Capital Levy Policy.

London, April 4.—The house of commons rejected the policy of a capital levy, the chief labor plank in the last election, by a vote of 325 to 169. Action came on a Conservative motion, designed to force the government to define its attitude on the question.

Births Exceed Deaths.

Paris, April 4.—France's natural increase in population in 1923 was 94,000, according to the official vital statistics just published here. The births numbered 761,000 against 759,000 in the preceding year, while there were 667,000 deaths against 689,000 in 1922.

tee's Investigation.

UP TO FEDERAL GRAND JURY

Committee's Report Will Condemn
Policies Followed Concerning Leasing of Naval Reserves and Recommend Remedial Legislation—Ohio
Publisher Summoned to Appear Before the Committee.

Washington, April 4.—The federal grand jury which meets here April 10 will be entrusted with criminal proceedings against at least five men whose names have figured in the senate investigation of naval oil reserve leases.

The inquiry is drawing to a close and the committee will soon begin the work of drafting its report. The report will condemn policies followed with respect to the leasing of naval reserves, and amendments to the leasing law and probably some original legislation to prevent future disposition of any part of the public resources, without a check by congress, will be recommended.

The report will apply in the main to the period since Walsh went to Palm Beach in January to question A. B. McLean. It will condemn the turning over of the naval oil lands from the navy to the interior department and the manner in which Teapot Dome and Elk Hills were leased to Sinclair and Doheny.

Robert F. Wolfe, Columbus publisher, and J. B. French of Oklahoma City, were summoned by the committee. Senator Walsh will question both in connection with reported political "deals" at the 1920 Republican national convention at Chicago. Wolfe was one of the Ohio Wood leaders at the convention. French is said to have been a political associate of the late Jake Hamon.

STATE TO PROBE AFFAIR

Officials to Investigate the Sale of Poison at Toledo.

Toledo, April 4.—Inspectors from the state board of pharmacy will come to Toledo soon to investigate enforcement of laws regulating the sale of poison. They are coming at the request of Toledo druggists.

Several additional fatalities from denatured alcohol and poisoned liquor have brought the death toll to 20. One of the victims, James Carter, aged 55, died in the county jail, where he was taken after arrest as a witness in the case of Meyer Seizman, druggist, accused of selling the poison. Seizman and two clerks are held to the grand jury under bond on a manslaughter charge in connection with three of the deaths.

Wife Returns Money.

San Diego, Cal., April 4.—Mrs. Irvine R. Brown, wife of Lieutenant Brown, naval supply officer, alleged to have deserted his ship after taking $120,000 in government money, turned over $75,820 to the local naval authorities. She said she took a grip with the money in it from her husband.

Reported Members of Klan.

Hazleton, Pa., April 4.—Thirty-two members of the United Mine Workers have been cited to appear at a meeting of the local union next Wednesday to answer to the charge that they are holding membership in the Ku Klux Klan. This action was taken on order from District President Thomas Kennedy, who directed that the local unions of the section be purged of all Klan members, in accordance with the constitutional provisions of the union adopted at the recent convention.

Narrowly Escaped Death.

New York, April 4.—Laborers employed in the vehicular tunnel which is being constructed under the Hudson river between New York and New Jersey, narrowly escaped death when a quantity of rock in the roof of the tunnel was loosened by the pressure of compressed air, allowing one section of the excavation to be filled with water. Racing before the flood, the men found safety behind an emergency door. The men were working within two feet of the river bed.

German Rail Workers Strike.

Berlin, April 4.—Several thousand railroad employes have gone on strike at Hamburg, Mannheim, Elberfeld and other centers. A general walkout is threatened.

THE WEATHER.

Ohio—Saturday: Probably showers

COLLECTED COSTS

Officials of "Wayside Court" Criticized by State Examiners.

Columbus, April 4.—Officials of the village of Northfield, Summit county, operated a "wayside court" during the administration of Mayor V. S. Hubbard for the "prosecution of alleged violators of village traffic ordinances, but primarily for the personal gain of the officials," according to report filed with State Auditor Tracy by State Examiner H. D. Defenbacher and Assistant Examiner R. L. Lippencott. Referring to the "wayside court," the report declares it should not be "the attitude of public officials to make sure of the collection of costs, which are for their personal use, and then to give slight consideration to the assessing and collecting of fines." To support this criticism the examiners cite that of a total assessment of fines amounting to $7,139 only $787 was collected for the village, whereas "the officials collected $6,232 for themselves" in costs.

Daugherty to Speak.

Ada, O., April 4.—Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general of the United States, will deliver the commencement address at Ohio Northern university here May 28, university officials said. He also will be present for the dedication of the Warren G. Harding college of law.

WOMEN RUN TOWN

Notice Served on All Lawbreakers to Reform or Get Out.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 4.—Eva Bretz, school teacher mayor of Columbus City, Iowa, and her cabinet of women, served notice on all lawbreakers here to come into the fold or get out of town. Every elective office in town fell to the women. Two other teachers, Miss Mary Moore and Miss Nellie Moore, occupy the posts of treasurer and assessor respectively. "We shall endeavor to show how a city should be run," Mayor Bretz said. "We don't want bootleggers, petting parties, the mixing of gin with automobiles, and I am opposed to women smoking cigarettes or bobbing their hair."

Sanitarium Burns.

Lenoir, N. C., April 4.—Bodies of a man and a woman were taken from the ruins of the Broad Oaks sanitarium at Morgantown, near here, following a fire which destroyed the north wing and a part of the east wing of the sanitarium in which about 40 patients were sleeping. Property loss $50,000.

MARKET REVIEW

Columbus, April 4.—The following market review was issued by the Ohio division of markets:

LIVE STOCK AND MEATS—Chicago hog prices range from 15c to 25c higher than a week ago, closing at $7.60 for the top and $7.35 for the bulk. Medium and good beef steers steady to 25c higher at $8.15 to $11.75; butcher cows and heifers steady to 25c higher at $4.10 to $7.50; feeder steers steady to 25c higher at $5.25 to $7.50; light and medium weight fat calves 25c to 75c higher at $8.12; fat lambs 15c to 25c lower at $14.50 to $16.50; feeding lambs 25c to 50c higher at $14.25 to $15.75; yearlings steady at $12.15, and fat ewes 25c higher at $7.50 to $12. In eastern wholesale fresh meat markets beef 50c lower to $1.50 higher, veal and mutton weak to $1 lower, lamb $1 to $2 lower and pork to $1.50 higher. April 3 prices, good grade meats: Beef, $15.18; veal, $17.19; lamb, $26.29; mutton, $19.22; light pork loins, $16.18; heavy loins, $12.14 to 50.

GRAIN—Light receipts strengthened grain markets. Corn and oats 1c to 2c higher in principal markets. Wheat market firm because of strength in coarse grains. Quoted April 3: No. 1 dark northern spring wheat, Minneapolis $1.12 1/2; No. 2 hard winter wheat, Chicago $1.04 1/2; Kansas City, $1.01 20; St. Louis $1.04; No. 2 red winter wheat, Kansas City $1.06 1/2; St. Louis $1.14 1/2; No. 3 yellow corn, Chicago 79 1/2; No. 3 white oats, Chicago 47 1/2; Kansas City 48 1/2; St. Louis 49 1/2; Minneapolis 43c.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES—Eastern round white potatoes fairly steady at $1.50 to $1.75 sacked per 100 pounds in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh; northern sacked round whites 10c to 20c higher in Chicago at $1.30 to $1.50, mostly $1.15 at shipping points. New stock—Florida spaulding rose $12.14 per double-head barrel in eastern cities. Florida pointed type cabbage generally weaker, ranging $1.20 to $1.30 per bushel in leading markets. Texas flat type $5 to $10 higher in St. Louis and Kansas City at $50 to $60 bulk per ton, $25 to $28 f. o. b.

HAY—Hay market stronger because of light receipts and good demand. Quoted April 3: No. 1 timothy, Boston $28.50, New York $30, Pittsburgh $27, Memphis $28, Cincinnati $24.50, Chicago $27, Minneapolis $18.50, St. Louis $27.50, Kansas City $29.25, No. 1 alfalfa, Memphis $33, Chicago $28, Minneapolis $31.50, Kansas City $29, Omaha $29, No. 1 prairie, Chicago $28, Minneapolis $15.50, St. Louis $29, Kansas City $15.50, Omaha $13.50.

DAIRY PRODUCTS—Butter markets featured by weakness during the week and prices broke sharply. Closing prices, 92 score: New York 49c, Chicago 34 1/2c, Philadelphia 41 1/2c, Boston 43c. Cheese markets weak and lower. Closing prices at Wisconsin primary markets April 3: Single daisies 18 1/2c, double daisies 18 1/2c, longhorns 18 1/2c, square prints 18 1/2c.

Whitening Piano Keys.
Yellowed piano keys are sometimes whitened to a certain extent by leaving the piano open every day, exposing the keys to the light. Another treatment is to lay on the keys a paste of whiting and a solution of potash, allowing it to remain for twenty-four hours.—Housewife.

400 Sorts of Silk Worms.
There are more than four hundred different cocoons, and although the great majority of these are valueless from a commercial point of view, there are five kinds which are domesticated and several others which, though wild, have their cocoons collected for the sake of their silk.

First Fossil Skeleton.
The megatherium was the first fossil skeleton ever mounted. Nearly two centuries ago a Spanish colonist in the viceroyalty of Buenos Aires—now the Argentine Republic—discovered the skeleton of a huge animal. The skeleton was sent to Madrid and later mounted.

New Coat of Twill Cord, Flannel Cuffs, Border

Listed among the smart semi-sports models for spring is this wrap developed in navy twill cord, with white flannel cuffs and border, stitched in black, and with white ermine collar.

Kinds of Gloves That Cover Dainty Patties

Gloves for informal wear are elaborately embroidered in highly contrasting colors this season, but for semi-formal occasions the well-dressed woman prefers plain handwear, with embroidery either to match the leather or slightly darker.

Beige mocha, with embroidery to match or in a slightly darker brown shade, constitutes an important part of the metropolitan woman's wardrobe.

Fashion authorities report that gloves of white glace kid are being worn in rapidly increasing numbers where modish women congregate. Unsullied white is the order of the day, with no contrasting embroidery or stitching.

Women are giving increasing attention to mousquetaire gloves in twelve-button and sixteen-button lengths, in beige or white mocha. While short and long dress sleeves remain equally popular, many women are wearing short gloves with either type of sleeve. Particularly during the present style era, however, the woman, who is really well dressed has long gloves for wear with short sleeves and vice versa.

New gauntlets, beige colored, have white kid or mocha cuffs, in which designs have been cut to show a contrasting leather underneath, accentuating the motif.

Some of the latest kid gauntlets have the cuffs lined with velvet.

Autumn's Silhouette Is Still in Limelight

The lines of the daytime mode, whether for formal or informal wear, do not indicate any radical departure from the silhouette of last autumn. Only the variations are different and instead of the circular cut of the last season there are now ingenious panels which in no way interrupt the straight outline.

The suit is a most prominent item in the spring collections. Jackets to suits are short and so are the skirts, so that there is a general impression of brief trimness on these first models.

Both skirt and jacket adhere closely to the lines of the figure. Plaited suits are being shown in numbers—and by plaited suits it is meant that both the skirt and the jacket are plaited—generally with unstitched plaits caught down with bands, after the manner of those introduced by Renee last autumn. These suits are made of both silk and cloth and are generally a dark blue color with contrasting blouses. Half-inch box plaits and tiny knife plaits are particularly favored and these may be arranged in sections or in all-over form.

Buttons as Trimming Straight Down Front

In a mode of their own are the dresses with rows of buttons as their main motif in trimming. Now a long line of buttons is not a form of decoration to be carelessly scattered over a dress without either rhyme or reason, so frocks are designed with this sort of trimming in mind. In the majority of the models the buttons form a straight line down the front of the dress. A tunelike frock of green crepe uses the buttons to fasten the tunic to the knees. In design this dress is rather Chinese, with standing band collar and wide sleeves fastened with a narrow band cuff.

SPIDER AND THE FLY AS RETOLD

By GERTRUDE FIELDER

(© 1924, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"A PENNY for your thoughts, sweetheart."

Nancy, chin in hand, raised her eyes and answered the roguish gleam dancing in the gray eyes fastened upon her, with a smile, sudden, charming. (Everything about Nancy was sudden, charming, to quote Nancy's husband.)

"I was thinking," said Nancy.

"So I surprised by your seeming disregard of my humble presence. Don't forget you have someone to help solve your problems."

"You may be a clever lawyer—begging your pardon on my bended knees, Jerry, for the seeming doubt—but you cannot solve this problem."

"Never condemn anyone, especially an only husband, without a hearing," retorted Jerry. "Come, the whole story."

"I was thinking of that old, old story, 'The Spider and the Fly,' and trying to devise some means of escape for the fly, myself impersonating the fly," returned Nancy.

"Wow! I hope I'm not impersonating spider to your fly, blessedest. Tell me you're only staging a play."

Nancy shook her head.

"No? Well, shall we hold tribunal?"

"Suppose we settle one little point before court opens," said her husband. "You meant no naughty insinuations by your old spider story?"

"Great silly boy!" chided Nancy. "Of course I had no reference to you."

"Who-oo? Who-oo?" said the owl.

"Acquaintances," emphatically. "Everyone of 'em, down to the newest, latest one."

"Why, Nancy! I thought you liked everybody. I thought you enjoyed it all!" exclaimed a bewildered Jerry.

"I have enjoyed it, Jerry, and I do like them—at least, most of them."

"Then, what's the trouble?"

"Jerry, how long have we been married?"

Jerry's laugh rang out, like a boy's for sheer high spirits.

"Six months. Didn't catch me that time, honey."

"How many evenings have we had alone—quite, quite alone, together?" went on the interrogator.

"Not many, that's a fact," with a sudden seriousness that was one of his charms as a husband.

"This week," said Nancy reminiscently, "my silk stockings went into the chicken and—"

"What!"

Nancy giggled and went on. "The extra laundry washed away the love of a hat I saw at —s."

"The week before, a maid devoured your American Beauties and box of sweets," interrupted Jerry, catching on. "I forget who was being entertained."

"I haven't," murmured Nancy. "Jerry, don't you see, it's the trying to keep up with them all—dinners, luncheons, parties, dances. I'm not their kind, Jerry; wait, please. I'm just a little country girl, and I can't, I can't like it."

With a sudden rush of feeling, Jerry's strong arms drew her closer, and with his lips against her hair, he murmured, "Darling, darling, mysterious little Nancy! How could you know your longings were mine?"

"Yours?" cried Nancy, "yours? And I've tried to like everything because—oh, Jerry, I thought you wanted to be a part of the never-ceasing, pleasure-seeking throng, so I tried to be a part of it, too."

"Unconsciously," he said, "I have been helping to weave a web which might have caught my pretty's wings, and held her in its mesh to a tragical ending, if the old story had run true to form instead of reversing itself, wherein the fly captured the big, blind, stupid spider."

"Oh, Jerry," breathed Nancy, "you're the understandingest!"

"I haven't been," acknowledged Jerry, "but hereafter and forever, that shall be my aim. Sweetheart, I've made an engagement for you on Saturday—a motor trip to a suburban town."

"With you?" flashing him a smile.

"None other," with a grin.

After several minutes of mental activity: "Jerry, we're going to look at a bungalow!" declared Nancy, triumphantly.

"Right, as usual," retorted Jerry. "The rent is one-third of what we pay here, with the option to buy if the house meets with your ladyship's approval. It is owned by a client, a grateful client, which is a novelty, let me tell you."

"I'd rather you'd tell me about the bungalow," laughed Nancy.

"Well, it's a little green bungalow, set in its own green lawn, with crimson rambler roses climbing almost to its roof. That is, the bungalow is green now; the lawn will be green, and there will be crimson roses by and by."

"And a fireplace and a window seat?" cried Nancy.

"A fireplace and window seat," replied Jerry, "the window seat fronting a street high arched with elms. There are many windows, and wherever you look there is beauty."

"Think of those windows wide to the summer, the air sweet with flowers," said Nancy.

"Your friend, the Spider, is an experienced garden decorator," put in Jerry, shyly; "what if the Spider and the Fly drama be enacted in your peaceful garden?"

"You may be quite sure I'll take a stick and release the fly," dumbled Nancy.

Builds Miniature Rail

Line on Country Estate

W. Cecil Gage, retired broker, of Fishkill, N. Y., has just completed a two-mile miniature railway system, which he has constructed with his own hands entirely from odds and ends found lying about his estate.

The tracks and switches were made from the floor beams and the cars and locomotive from the partitions of dismantled farm buildings. Ashes from the family furnace served as ballast for the tracks. A gasoline motor to run the locomotive and wheels for locomotive and cars are the only parts of the system that are not homemade.

Mr. Gage began constructing his little road five years ago in order to supply himself with an easy way of disposing of ashes. He has been steadily adding to it since then until now he has two miles of track, five passenger cars, two flat cars, a freight car, eight switches, four crossings equipped with warning signs, a turntable, a snowplow and half a dozen stations. At night and during severe weather a long chicken house serves as a "roundhouse" for the protection of the rolling stock.

The road is used to carry farm products, firewood and similar materials about the estate as well as to take the children of Fishkill and the surrounding towns for joyriding. Mr. Gage estimates his yearly mileage as something above 10,000. The tiny cars attain a speed of 20 miles an hour or more on straight runs, and, although several thousand persons have been carried as passengers, there never has been an accident.—Popular Science.

Sweet and Sour Basis

The chemical difference between sweet and sour is probably based upon the difference in intramolecular arrangement. The psychological difference is due to the fact that the tongue contains end organs, some of which are stimulated by sweet things and others by sour. These are known as taste buds, because of the functioning of these buds, we are able to differentiate between sweet and sour.

SPIDER AND THE FLY AS RETOLD

By GERTRUDE FIELDER

(©, 1924, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"A PENNY for your thoughts,"

Nancy, chin in hand, raised her eyes and answered the roguish gleam dancing in the gray eyes fastened upon her, with a smile, sudden, charming. (Everything about Nancy was sudden, charming, to quote Nancy's husband). "I was thinking," said Nancy. "So I surmised by your seeming disregard of my humble presence. Don't forget you have someone to help solve your problems."

"You may be a clever lawyer—begging your pardon on my bended knees, Jerry, for the seeming doubt—but you cannot solve this problem."

"Never condemn anyone, especially an only husband, without a hearing," retorted Jerry. "Come, the whole story."

"I was thinking of that old, old story, 'The Spider and the Fly,' and trying to devise some means of escape for the fly, myself impersonating the fly," returned Nancy.

"Wow! I hope I'm not impersonating spider to your fly, blessedest. Tell me you're only staging a play."

Nancy shook her head. "No? Well, shall we hold tribunal?"

"Suppose we settle one little point before court opens," said her husband. "You meant no naughty insinuations by your old spider story?"

"Great silly boy!" chided Nancy. "Of course I had no reference to you."

"Who-oo? Who-oo?" said the owl. "Acquaintances," emphatically. "Everyone of 'em, down to the newest, latest one."

"Why, Nancy! I thought you liked everybody. I thought you enjoyed it all!" exclaimed a bewildered Jerry. "I have enjoyed it, Jerry, and I do like them—at least, most of them."

"Then, what's the trouble?" "Jerry, how long have we been married?"

Jerry's laugh rang out, like a boy's for sheer high spirits. "Six months. Didn't catch me that time, honey."

"How many evenings have we had alone—quite, quite alone, together?" went on the interrogator.

"Not many, that's a fact," with a sudden seriousness that was one of his charms as a husband. "This week," said Nancy reminiscently. "my silk stockings went into the chicken and—"

"What!" Nancy giggled and went on. "The extra laundry washed away the love of a hat I saw at —s."

"The week before, a maid devoured your American Beauties and box of sweets," interrupted Jerry, catching on. "I forget who was being entertained."

"I haven't," murmured Nancy. "Jerry, don't you see, it's the trying to keep up with them all—dinners, luncheons, parties, dances. I'm not their kind, Jerry; wait, please. I'm just a little country girl, and I can't, I can't like it."

With a sudden rush of feeling, Jerry's strong arms drew her closer, and with his lips against her hair, he murmured, "Darling, darling, mysterious little Nancy! How could you know your longings were mine?"

"Yours?" cried Nancy. "Yours? And I've tried to like everything because—oh, Jerry, I thought you wanted to be a part of the never-ceasing, pleasure-seeking throng, so I tried to be a part of it, too."

"Unconsciously," he said, "I have been helping to weave a web which might have caught my pretty's wings, and held her in its mesh to a tragical ending, if the old story had run true to form instead of reversing itself, wherein the fly captured the big, blind, stupid spider."

"Oh, Jerry," breathed Nancy, "you're the understandingest!"

"I haven't been," acknowledged Jerry, "but hereafter and forever, that shall be my aim. Sweetheart, I've made an engagement for you on Saturday—a motor trip to a suburban town."

"With you?" flashing him a smile. "None other," with a grin.

After several minutes of mental activity: "Jerry, we're going to look at a bungalow!" declared Nancy, triumphantly.

"Right, as usual," retorted Jerry. "The rent is one-third of what we pay here, with the option to buy if the house meets with your ladyship's approval. It is owned by a client, a grateful client, which is a novelty, let me tell you."

"I'd rather you'd tell me about the bungalow," laughed Nancy.

"And a fireplace and a window seat?" cried Nancy.

"A fireplace and window seat," replied Jerry, "the window seat fronting a street high arched with elms. There are many windows, and wherever you look there is beauty."

"Think of those windows wide to the summer, the air sweet with flowers," said Nancy.

"Your friend, the Spider, is an experienced garden decorator," put in Jerry, shyly; "what if the Spider and the Fly drama be enacted in your peaceful garden?"

"You may be quite sure I'll take a stick and release the fly," dimpled Nancy.

SCARLET FEVER

Epidemic Threatens Columbus—Franklin County Leads in State in New Cases.

An epidemic of scarlet fever threatens Columbus and Franklin county, according to records of the state department of health for the last two weeks of March. Seventy-four new cases were reported from the county. Of these 65 were in Columbus. Franklin leads all counties in the state in the number of new cases. Cincinnati and Cleveland each reported 33 new cases. The records of the department show smallpox increased 20 per cent over the first two weeks of March. Franklin county is free from this disease, not a single case was reported during this period. Lucas county led with 35 new cases and Henry county was second with 33.

The same period also showed a marked increase in diphtheria cases, but Franklin again was comparatively low in the list, reporting only six new cases. Cleveland led all other cities with 63.

The records show a slight increase in scarlet fever cases reported from over the state as compared with March, 1923, and smallpox cases show an increase of 20 per cent. The general percentage of diphtheria cases, however, is lower than March of last year.

Chain Screen Doors for Furnaces.

Chain screen doors have been found satisfactory as a protection for firemen against the intense heat of metal, glass and chemical furnaces. The curtain of chain shuts in heat, gases and sparks, and shuts out cold air, permits an unhampered view of the interior of the furnace, and allows tools or other objects to be very easily projected into it.

Appeals to Supreme Court.

Columbus, April 4.—Suit against the village of Shaker Heights, Cuyahoga county, was carried to the supreme court by Mrs. Pirocka Radowicz, mother of the late Louis Radowicz, who, the petition in appeal avers, was killed on night of Aug. 17, 1922, when a police officer of the village commandeered an automobile in which he was driving and gave chase to "divers vicious and suspicious persons." In a gun battle that followed Radowicz was wounded and died within an hour thereafter, the mother declares. Lower courts found against the mother.

To Translate Old Testament.

Chicago, April 4.—An American translation of the Old Testament under the editorship of Dr. J. M. Powis Smith, professor of Old Testament language and literature in the University of Chicago, has been authorized by the university trustees. Completion of that work would provide a full American translation of the Bible under the leadership of University of Chicago professors. Dr. J. E. Goodspeed's American translation of the New Testament was brought out last year.

To Receive Students.

Washington, April 4.—President Coolidge will receive students during the student conference on law observance and citizenship Saturday and Sunday. More than 100 institutions, it is announced, will be represented in the meetings, which will discuss the effects of prohibition in the colleges and universities and point out what can be done for law observance and to create better citizenship.

HERE AND THERE

Dean Philblad, 19, of Knoxville, Tenn., was killed when a radio aerial he was erecting came in contact with a 2,300-volt electric wire.

Former Governor Ebenezer J. Ormsby, aged 90, died at Brandon, Vt. He had held almost every state office within the gift of the Vermont electors and served as governor from 1886 to 1888.

George W. Barnett, 20, alleged bandit, was killed at St. Louis by a detective.

British steamship Frangestan was abandoned on fire in the Red sea and the 1,200 pilgrims, bound for Mecca, aboard her transferred to the steamer Olan MacIver.

Lakes Charles rice mills at Lake Charles, La., largest in the world, were destroyed by fire. Loss was estimated at $2,000,000.

Fire destroyed the Whitney hotel and bathing pavilion at Coney Island, N. Y., and damaged a portion of the new boardwalk. Loss $100,000.

Four persons are dead and two still unaccounted for, according to check-up of victims in the fire which destroyed the Livingston hotel at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Would Be Missed.

One day while out in the yard playing with his new knife my little boy broke the blade and came in feeling badly about it. I told him I was sorry, too. He thought about it a little while, then he said: "My, but my pocket will be lonesome without my knife."—Exchange.

FIFTY MEN

From Ashville Visit Local Lutheran Brotherhood Thursday Night.

More than 50 men from the Ashville Lutheran church visited the Lutheran Brotherhood here Thursday night. The visitors brought with them an orchestra, chorus and entertainers of various kinds. A fine supper of mashed potatoes, roast beef, fruit salad, ice cream, cake and coffee awaited them. Ed. Crist and J. D. Hummel were cooks and Ed. Sensenbrenner had charge of the tables. The Sunday School Orchestra furnished music during the supper hour.

After the meal Link Mader, president of the local Brotherhood, turned the meeting over to the visitors, Floyd Poor, acting as toastmaster.

Mr. George A. Hook started the entertainment with a Journal. Professor Shupe gave a talk on "The Robin." Several good selections were rendered by their young orchestra. Two small sons of George Logston, one eight and the other ten, as violinists and pianists, were unusually good. Two Kuhlwein boys entertained with harp and drums and made the hit of the evening. Emanuel Snyder and several helpers put on some real fun. Paul Kuhlwein gave a humorous monologue and Rev. Glick, Ashville's minister, gave a talk on "Experience." About 100 men of the local brotherhood were present.

AMUSEMENTS

Every school boy and girl in the land has read Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's poem, "The Courtship of Myles Standish" so many times that the question, "Why Don't You Speak for Yourself, John?" spoken by the sweet Pilgrim miss, Priscilla Mullins, to her bashful suitor, John Alden, has become a byword, a phrase that is now the tagline of the big picture that Charles Ray has made of the celebrated love story.

Ray has given the picturized version a sumptuous and lavish expenditure and nothing has been spared to make it as near detail as possible. The director was Frederick Sullivan, who did a marveous bit of work and deserves special mention for the part he played in making the Standish picture something for the other directors to shoot at.

Irrespective of the famous love story of early American literature, the storm scenes aboard the historic May flower are declared to be the most realistic and ripping ever screened. Frank Elliott in the Motion Picture News says that "the moments aboard the Mayflower on its way to America will be the most talked about and will put the picture over."

It is indeed a mighty big screen classic, with thrills galore, colorful action and finely-enacted love scenes with Charles Ray as John Alden and Enid Bennett as Priscilla.

METROPOLITAN THEATRE

MONDAY and TUESDAY

APRIL 7 and 8

See Christopher Columbus pleading his case before King John of Portugal, and before Queen Isabella and King Ferdinand of Spain. See him at last set sail for "the Edge of the World" with the Santa Maria, the Pinta and the Nina. See the fear of the superstitious sailors---the sighting of land---the actual discovery of the New World.

A drama of life and realities

Man's Debt to the Horse.

Not only has the horse inhabited the earth for many millions of years, but throughout the ages he has made the world ring with tales of equine valor. From Pegasus, the winged steed, who aided Bellerophon in slaying the monster, Chimaera, down to the 16,000,000 horses which helped the allies to win the World war, they have served man well, and oftentimes purchased his safety with their lives.

FOR STARVING CHILDREN.

SCARLET FEVER

Epidemic Threatens Columbus—Franklin County Leads in State in New Cases.

An epidemic of scarlet fever threatens Columbus and Franklin county, according to records of the state department of health for the last two weeks of March. Seventy-four new cases were reported from the county. Of these 65 were in Columbus. Franklin leads all counties in the state in the number of new cases. Cincinnati and Cleveland each reported 33 new cases.

The records of the department show smallpox increased 20 per cent over the first two weeks of March. Franklin county is free from this disease, not a single case was reported during this period. Lucas county led with 35 new cases and Henry county was second with 33.

The same period also showed a marked increase in diphtheria cases, but Franklin again was comparatively low in the list, reporting only six new cases. Cleveland led all other cities with 63.

The records show a slight increase in scarlet fever cases reported from over the state as compared with March, 1923, and smallpox cases show an increase of 20 per cent. The general percentage of diphtheria cases, however, is lower than March of last year.

Chain Screen Doors for Furnaces.

Chain screen doors have been found satisfactory as a protection for firemen against the intense heat of metal, glass and chemical furnaces. The curtain of chain shuts in heat, gases and sparks, and shuts out cold air, permits an unhampered view of the interior of the furnace, and allows tools or other objects to be very easily projected into it.

Appeals to Supreme Court.

Columbus, April 4.—Suit against the village of Shaker Heights, Cuyahoga county, was carried to the supreme court by Mrs. Piroka Radowicz, mother of the late Louis Radowicz, who, the petition in appeal avers, was killed on night of Aug. 17, 1922, when a police officer of the village commandeered an automobile in which he was driving and gave chase to "divers vicious and suspicious persons." In a gun battle that followed Radowicz was wounded and died within an hour thereafter, the mother declares. Lower courts found against the mother.

To Translate Old Testament.

Chicago, April 4.—An American translation of the Old Testament under the editorship of Dr. J. M. Powis Smith, professor of Old Testament language and literature in the University of Chicago, has been authorized by the university trustees. Completion of that work would provide a full American translation of the Bible under the leadership of University of Chicago professors. Dr. J. E. Goodspeed's American translation of the New Testament was brought out last year.

To Receive Students.

Washington, April 4.—President Coolidge will receive students during the student conference on law observance and citizenship Saturday and Sunday. More than 100 institutions, it is announced, will be represented in the meetings, which will discuss the effects of prohibition in the colleges and universities and point out what can be done for law observance and to create better citizenship.

HERE AND THERE

Dean Philblad, 19, of Knoxville, Tenn., was killed when a radio aerial he was erecting came in contact with a 2,300-volt electric wire.

Former Governor Ebenezer J. Ormsby, aged 90; died at Brandon, Vt. He had held almost every state office within the gift of the Vermont electors and served as governor from 1886 to 1888.

George W. Barnett, 20, alleged bandit, was killed at St. Louis by a detective.

British steamship Frangestan was abandoned on fire in the Red sea and the 1,200 pilgrims, bound for Mecca, aboard her transferred to the steamer Olan MacIver.

Lakes Charles rice mills at Lake Charles, La., largest in the world, were destroyed by fire. Loss was estimated at $2,000,000.

Fire destroyed the Whitney hotel and bathing pavilion at Coney Island, N. Y., and damaged a portion of the new boardwalk. Loss $100,000.

Four persons are dead and two still unaccounted for, according to check-up of victims in the fire which destroyed the Livingston hotel at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Would Be Missed.

One day while out in the yard playing with his new knife my little boy broke the blade and came in feeling badly about it. I told him I was sorry, too. He thought about it a little while, then he said: "My, but my pocket will be lonesome without my knife."—Exchange.

FIFTY MEN

From Ashville Visit Local Lutheran Brotherhood Thursday Night.

More than 50 men from the Ashville Lutheran church visited the Lutheran Brotherhood here Thursday night. The visitors brought with them an orchestra, chorus and entertainers of various kinds. A fine supper of mashed potatoes, roast beef, fruit salad, ice cream, cake and coffee awaited them. Ed. Crist and J. D. Hummel were cooks and Ed. Senenbrenner had charge of the tables. The Sunday School Orchestra furnished music during the supper hour. After the meal Link Mader, president of the local Brotherhood, turned the meeting over to the visitors, Floyd Foor, acting as toastmaster.

Mr. George A. Hook started the entertainment with a Journal. Professor Shupe gave a talk on "The Robin." Several good selections were rendered by their young orchestra. Two small sons of George Logston, one eight and the other ten, as violinists and pianists, were unusually good. Two Kuhlwein boys entertained with harp and drums and made the hit of the evening. Emanuel Snyder and several helpers put on some real fun. Paul Kuhlwein gave a humorous monologue and Rev. Glick, Ashville's minister, gave a talk on "Experience." About 100 men of the local brotherhood were present.

LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Rebecca Barks Died at Home on the Lancaster Pike.

Mrs. Rebecca Barks died at her home on the Lancaster pike at six o'clock this morning. She was born in this state March 5, 1847. She had been ill two years. Her husband, Thomas Barks, died several years ago. She was a member of the Christian church.

Three daughters and three sons survive. They are Mrs. Aleta Smyres, Mrs. Rose Caldwell, James and Henry Barks, of this city; Mrs. Dora Drake of Carroll and C. C. Barks, of Newark.

The funeral services will be held at her late home Monday afternoon, April 7, at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Dolison and Rev. Mr. Coppack will officiate. Interment in Forest cemetery.

The Speaking Voice.

It is a great mistake to try and talk above noise. It is so much easier and more effective to speak below it; a full, clear tone will carry when a shrill one is not only annoying but very tiring.

If our creeds had in them more of the breath of life they would be less likely to become objects of controversy.—Religious Telescope.

PICKAWAY U. B. CIRCUIT

EASTER MARKET APRIL 12.
The members and friends of the Pickaway charge are hereby solicited to contribute and thereby help in a financial effort of the ladies culminating in an Easter market at the Community house, Circleville on Saturday, April 12, as follows:

Dressed chickens, dried noodles, milk, potatoes, apples, pies and cakes cottage cheese, butter, eggs, cream. The ladies will be at the community house Saturday morning and during the day. They invite the patronage of the public at that time.

Safety First.

Preparatory to showing Charlie his new sister, his father said, "What do you say to getting a new baby at our house, sonny?" Charlie thought a moment and then said, "We'd better be careful, daddy; let's just rent one till we see how we like it, for Billy (Charlie's chum) says he is tired of his; it yells all the time."

NOVEL AUCTION

No Money Needed in This Sale—Save Aer-O-Plane Bonds.

The Circleville Aer-O-Plane stores will hold an auction sale of valuable premiums on Saturday, April 26.

This is a new kind of auction sale where you buy real merchandise without a cent of real money, an honest-to-goodness auction sale, only there is no auctioneer and you use no real money.

The following are the Aer-o-Plane stores:

Wilder's Cash Store.
Stevenson's Furniture Store.
Stocklen's, The White Grocery.
Henn Bros., Meat Market.
Geo. H. Fickardt & Co., Druggists.
Daily and Weekly Union-Herald.
Circleville Tire & Repair Co.
R. L. Brehmer, Ford Sales & Service.

Barnhill Dry Cleaning Co.
Pickaway County Lumber Co.
Wallace Bakery, Cream Crum Bread
With every cash purchase you will receive the same amount in Aer-O-Plane Bonds. That is if you buy 25c worth, you will receive 25c in Aer-O-plane Bonds; with each 50c purchase you will receive 50c in Aer-O-Plane Bonds, and so on.

These premiums are on display now at Stevenson's store. Choose your premium save your Aer-O-Plane Bonds and ask us for the Auction Tickets. Write the amount you wish to bid on your auction ticket and deposit it in our auction box. On sale day the person offering the highest amount for each article, if present with Aer-O-plane Bonds, will receive the premium absolutely free.

If you fail to make the highest bid on the desired article save your Aer-O-Plane Bonds for the next sale which will take place at a later date. Better still, get your friends to give you their Aer-O-Plane Bonds for this sale and you help them next sale—just like the old-fashioned husking bee or quilting bee!

Below is a list of the articles to be bid for and they are now on display at Stevenson's Furniture store:

See the premiums on display at Stevenson's and when you visit any of the Aer-O-Plane stores, don't forget to ask for Aer-O-Plane bonds. In case you do not get a premium at the first sale, save your bonds for the next auction which will be announced later.

FIVE POINTS

Brotherhood Conferred Degrees Upon Five Candidates in This City.

The Men's Brotherhood of the Methodist church were hosts to the Brotherhood of Five Points in the social rooms of the church Thursday evening. Forty members of the Five Points Brotherhood were present and they were greeted by an equal number of the local brotherhood. Five candidates were initiated; Frank E. Barnhill, Professor C. W. Skeeles, Herschell Elliott, Irwin Reid and George R. Haswell. The ritualistic work and initiation was put on by the Five Points visitors. The session was followed by an elegant oyster supper given under the auspices of the third vice president and his able assistants.

Diamond Mining Old Industry.

Diamond mining is an ancient industry, and in India antedates Christ's birth by many centuries. There can be no question that the Roman Manilius was acquainted with the Indian diamond in A. D. 16, and a ring of imperial times, set with a one-carat rough stone, has been preserved. Since then, diamond-mining has furnished employment to tens of thousands, and for well over two hundred years to from seventy-five to one hundred thousand men. It is a world-wide industry in which the common labor is almost wholly done by negroes.—Exchange.

 SOCIAL CALENDAR ***

The children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren of Mary A. Johnson met at her country home near commercial Point, Ohio, Sunday, March 30, to celebrate her 75th birthday anniversary. Relatives were there from Logan, Columbus, Harrisburg and Orient, a very enjoyable occasion for all. The guests reluctantly left in the evening wishing their hostess many returns of the day.

Miss Marguerite Fohl entertained to cards Thursday evening in honor of Misses Isabelle Ritt and Dorothy Bowers and the latter's guest, Miss Martha Mullineau, who have returned home for their spring vacation. The girls are students at Western College at Oxford.

Dr. W. W. Boyd, president of The Western College for Women at Oxford has been nominated as minister to Poland.

LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Rebecca Barkes Died at Home on the Lancaster Pike.

Mrs. Rebecca Barkes died at her home on the Lancaster pike at six o'clock this morning. She was born in this state March 5, 1847. She had been ill two years. Her husband, Thomas Barkes, died several years ago. She was a member of the Christian church.

Three daughters and three sons survive. They are Mrs. Aleta Smyres, Mrs. Rose Caldwell, James and Henry Barkes, of this city; Mrs. Dora Drake of Carroll and C. C. Barkes, of Newark.

The funeral services will be held at her late home Monday afternoon, April 7, at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Dolison and Rev. Mr. Coppack will officiate. Interment in Forest cemetery.

The Speaking Voice.

It is a great mistake to try and talk above noise. It is so much easier and more effective to speak below it; a full, clear tone will carry when a shrill one is not only annoying but very tiring.

Waterproof Fan.

Among the many varieties of fans in use among the Japanese is one made of waterproof paper which can be dipped in water, and creates great coolness by evaporation.

Dresbach Sunday school 1:30. Preaching 2:30.
Morris Sunday school 9:30. Preaching 10:30. Y. P. S. C. E. 7:30. Wednesday evening prayer service at 7:30.
Pontius Sunday school 9:30. Preaching 7:30. The Sunday schools of the charge are arranging for Easter and parents desiring their children baptized are requested to plan for that time. Don't forget the Easter market, which the ladies of the charge will hold at the community house, Circleville, April 12.

If our creeds had in them more of the breath of life they would be less likely to become objects of controversy.—Religious Telescope.

PICKAWAY U. B. CIRCUIT

EASTER MARKET APRIL 12.

The members and friends of the Pickaway charge are hereby solicited to contribute and thereby help in a financial effort of the ladies culminating in an Easter market at the Community house, Circleville on Saturday, April 12, as follows:

Dressed chickens, dried noodles, milk, potatoes, apples, pies and cakes cottage cheese, butter, eggs, cream. The ladies will be at the community house Saturday morning and during the day. They invite the patronage of the public at that time.

Safety First.

Preparatory to showing Charlie his new sister, his father said, "What do you say to getting a new baby at our house, sonny?" Charlie thought a moment and then said, "We'd better be careful, daddy; let's just rent one till we see how we like it. for Billy (Charlie's chum) says he is tired of his; it yells all the time."

NOVEL AUCTION

No Money Needed in This Sale—Save Aer-O-Plane Bonds.

The Circleville Aer-O-Plane stores will hold an auction sale of valuable premiums on Saturday, April 26.

This is a new kind of auction sale where you buy real merchandise without a cent of real money, an honest-to-goodness auction sale, only there is no auctioneer and you use no real money.

The following are the Aer-O-Plane stores:

Wilder's Cash Store.
Stevenson's Furniture Store.
Stocklen's, The White Grocery.
Henn Bros., Meat Market.
Geo. H. Fickard & Co., Druggists.
Daily and Weekly Union-Herald.
Circleville Tire & Repair Co.
R. L. Brehmer, Ford Sales & Service.

Barnhill Dry Cleaning Co.
Pickaway County Lumber Co.
Wallace Bakery, Cream Crum Bread
With every cash purchase you will receive the same amount in Aer-O-Plane Bonds. That is if you buy 25c worth, you will receive 25c in Aer-O-plane Bonds; with each 50c purchase you will receive 50c in Aer-O-Plane Bonds, and so on.

These premiums are on display now at Stevenson's store. Choose your premium save your Aer-O-Plane Bonds and ask us for the Auction Tickets. Write the amount you wish to bid on your auction ticket and deposit it in our auction box. On sale day the person offering the highest amount for each article, if present with Aer-O-plane Bonds, will receive the premium absolutely free.

If you fail to make the highest bid on the desired article save your Aer-O-Plane Bonds for the next sale which will take place at a later date. Better still, get your friends to give you their Aer-O-Plane Bonds for this sale and you help them next sale—just like the old-fashioned husking bee or quilting bee!

Below is a list of the articles to be bid for and they are now on display at Stevenson's Furniture store:

1. 9x12 Congoleum Rug.
2. 5 Gallons Moser Barn Paint.

Overcoming Obstacles.

Obstacles look large or small to the man in proportion to his strength and determination to master them. If a little man, they look large; if a large man, difficulties look small in comparison with the advantage of what he longs for and what he proposes. The harder things go the greater the obstacle, the greater is the persistency and grit to annihilate them.—Orison Swett Marden in Chicago News.

Overcoming Obstacles.

Obstacles look large or small to the man in proportion to his strength and determination to master them. If a little man, they look large; if a large man, difficulties look small in comparison with the advantage of what he longs for and what he proposes. The harder things go the greater the obstacle, the greater is the persistency and grit to annihilate them.—Orison Swett Marden in Chicago News.

Powder Puffs Replace Sugar.
Since the French sugar ration was increased and restaurants have resumed serving it, Paris women are converting their sugar boxes into powder-puff cases. The carrying of sugar in little gold boxes was a fashionable war fad. The new use for the boxes is said to have originated with a Rue de la Paix jeweler who saw in the rising sugar ration a decline in the demand for his wares.

Tick Eradication Is Big Aid to Dairying

Fast Becoming Profitable Industry in the South.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)
The systematic drive for the eradication of cattle-fever ticks in the South is to a large degree responsible for the development of a prosperous live-stock industry, for which the South is well suited.

Recent reports to the United States Department of Agriculture from various sections of the South show that dairying is fast becoming a permanent and profitable industry there. South Carolina reports that the small farmers are finding a good source of revenue in the dairy business. One creamery alone is paying the farmers an average of $250 daily for cream.

Mississippi likewise is becoming a dairy state. A few years ago there was an inadequate milk supply for local consumption in some Mississippi cities, and milk had to be shipped in from other states.

Through systematic dipping, cattle ticks have been largely eradicated. In regions entirely free from ticks herds of well-bred dairy cattle are now found and are meeting the local demand for milk and dairy products. In fact, considerable quantities of milk are shipped to New Orleans and other distant markets.

Southern dairymen are also showing a keen interest in live-stock improvement. Many are breeding common herds up to high-grade stock by using pure-bred bulls. Various educational and commercial agencies are encouraging and assisting in the establishment of high-class dairies.

Turkeys, Ducks and Geese Easily Killed by Vermin

Turkeys, ducks and geese are more easily killed by the head lice than are other kinds of farm fowls. The lice are only one of the six or eight forms which bother poultry, but a single head louse has been known to kill a turkey. It is a grayish white louse, and the most serious of them all.

For treatment, dip the tip of the finger in melted lard and rub this well around the comb. Dip again and rub back of ear, repeating for the other ear, the bill and jaw. This does not give the head a greasy appearance, but is enough to destroy the lice. A few drops of kerosene, carbolic acid or stock dip may be added to the lard, to make it more effective. The bird should be kept in a warm place for a couple of hours after this treatment has been given.

General Repair Work in Winter Months Is Best

Repair work on machines, buildings, fences, and other farm improvements done during the winter months, is out of the way when crops are demanding all of the available time. Such work will interfere with the work on crops if permitted to wait until the crop season is here. It is one of the characteristics of a successful farmer that such work is done in slack seasons and before it is urgent. The inefficient farmer lets it go until the last minute and then loses on his crops because he is not working on them. A memorandum list of things that need to be done helps one to remember these things and helps to get them done at the right time.

No Feed Equals Pasture for Production of Milk

There is no one feed that can be fed in the barn that is equal to pasture for milk production. Cows may be fed silage to very good advantage when they are on pasture, if the pasture is short. Silage gives best results when fed in connection with other feeds.

If silage was to be fed alone, and compared with clover and timothy hay fed alone, there would probably not be very much difference. You would get best results by feeding three pounds of silage a day to one pound of hay. Silage and clover or silage and alfalfa make the best combination.

Utilize Winter Days in Making Concrete Blocks

Those situated near a good supply of sand can utilize the winter days profitably in making concrete blocks, posts and other similar products. The new blocks should be protected against freezing for several days. Some of those concrete floors may also be constructed during cold weather, if properly protected.

FARM HINTS

The reading farmer is usually the successful farmer.
There is no excuse for letting the pig pen look like a pig pen.
The feed of the sow largely determines the success of her pigs.
Better farm products at less cost mean greater profits with less work.
The fact that ice water is excellent for cooling milk is no excuse for making cows drink it.
Leaving stable manure exposed in the lots is one way some farmers have of throwing away money.

Ancient Symbol.

The initials I. H. S., appearing on grave stones, in churches, etc., are the initial letters of the Latin phrase "Jesus Hominum Salvator," which means "Jesus the Savior of Man." This was originally written in Greek and was the first three letters of the name Jesus, but its origin was lost sight of through substituting the "S" for the Greek sign sigma. Then by mistaking the Greek H for the Latin H a significance was found for each letter.

Beaver's Habits Fixed.

A careful study of beaver indicates that their acts, habits and customs are all instinctive, having in no way improved or advanced their original customs since the discovery of the species. They build their dams and lodges, provide their food supply and pursue the same course as they did thousands of years ago.

Turkeys, Ducks and Geese Easily Killed by Vermin

Turkeys, ducks and geese are more easily killed by the head lice than are other kinds of farm fowls. The lice are only one of the six or eight forms which bother poultry, but a single head louse has been known to kill a turkey. It is a grayish white louse, and the most serious of them all.

For treatment, dip the tip of the finger in melted lard and rub this well around the comb. Dip again and rub back of ear, repeating for the other ear, the bill and jaw. This does not give the head a greasy appearance, but is enough to destroy the lice. A few drops of kerosene, carbolic acid or stock dip may be added to the lard, to make it more effective. The bird should be kept in a warm place for a couple of hours after this treatment has been given.

General Repair Work in Winter Months Is Best

Repair work on machines, buildings, fences, and other farm improvements done during the winter months, is out of the way when crops are demanding all of the available time. Such work will interfere with the work on crops if permitted to wait until the crop season is here. It is one of the characteristics of a successful farmer that such work is done in slack seasons and before it is urgent. The inefficient farmer lets it go until the last minute and then loses on his crops because he is not working on them. A memorandum list of things that need to be done helps one to remember these things and helps to get them done at the right time.

No Feed Equals Pasture for Production of Milk

There is no one feed that can be fed in the barn that is equal to pasture for milk production. Cows may be fed silage to very good advantage when they are on pasture, if the pasture is short. Silage gives best results when fed in connection with other feeds.

If silage was to be fed alone, and compared with clover and timothy hay fed alone, there would probably not be very much difference. You would get best results by feeding three pounds of silage a day to one pound of hay. Silage and clover or silage and alfalfa make the best combination.

Utilize Winter Days in Making Concrete Blocks

Those situated near a good supply of sand can utilize the winter days profitably in making concrete blocks, posts and other similar products. The new blocks should be protected against freezing for several days. Some of those concrete floors may also be constructed during cold weather, if properly protected.

FARM HINTS

The reading farmer is usually the successful farmer.

There is no excuse for letting the pig pen look like a pig pen.

The feed of the sow largely determines the success of her pigs.

Better farm products at less cost mean greater profits with less work.

The fact that ice water is excellent for cooling milk is no excuse for making cows drink it.

Leaving stable manure exposed in the lots is one way some farmers have of throwing away money.

SPRING GARDENS

Preparations for Planting Are Now in Order—Heathful Diversion.

Days to delight the heart of the gardener are fast approaching. The belated snows, the pelting rains and the blustering damp winds of late March that have made traveling thru city streets anything but a joy nevertheless have awakened to new growth the dormant life of seed and bulb and bush and plant. A fortnight ago the spikelike leaves of the hardy iris had pierced the snow. Now daffodils are up, tulips are peering above surface and many of the less forward plants and bushes show signs of vigorous new growth.

The time has not yet arrived in this altitude for working the soil, but for the thoroughgoing gardener there is much to be done in preparation for that time. Pruning of bush and tree and vine should have been finished by now, according to the garden expert of The Daily News and any such work that still remains should be done with the utmost care to prevent "bleeding." Spraying of lilacs, roses and other bushes and trees to kill the scale can not be undertaken too soon, and neither can the cleaning fertilizing and other preparation for actually making ready the soil to receive the seeds and setouts that will reward the gardener's efforts thru the summer with fruits and flowers.

Aside from its yield in fruit, vegetable and flower, however, gardening deserves the consideration of everyone who has a chance to take it up. To men and women, old and young, it offers a most healthful and agreeable diversion and affords abundant opportunity for interesting study. Especially for the city man who is confined at a desk or in an office during most of the day, making garden affords the great advantage that it takes him into the open air in his hours of leisure and gives him exercise in an agreeable form. Many doctors recommend it as a remedy for jumpy nerves and the other afflictions that come from too close application to indoor work.

No one who has the time and the place for a garden should fail to cultivate one—Chicago News.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

"FORTY AND EIGHT" QUARTERS ARE OPEN

Headquarters of the "Forty and Eight," the fun-making branch of the American Legion, has been officially opened in Indianapolis near national headquarters of the parent organization.

"The Forty and Eight," as it is popularly known, is founded, principally for fun, and based on the now famous boxcar in which the men of the A. E. F. moved about France. The cars were destined to hold either forty men or eight horses, but just how the French were ever able to crowd so many men into so small a space remains a mystery to most Americans. Incidentally, the fun originating from the travels of the soldiers in these cars finds a faithful portrayal in realistic work of the Legion's "shrine."

At present the organization has nearly 750 "volunteers," or local chapters, scattered throughout the United States. To become a member of the organization one must be a Legionnaire and have performed some act of service either for that organization or distinctively for the benefit of veterans. It counts as members the most prominent and active Legionnaires in the nation.

The society has other aims as well as providing enjoyment for Legionnaires. In many places it takes over the function of a county council of the Legion, providing funeral escorts for deceased veterans, raising of funds for the Legion and other movements, and assisting the parent organization in every manner possible. On a national scale the organization has attempted to endow a fund, earnings which will be devoted to care of orphaned children—aside from the Legion's program—and an annual assessment is made on each member for this purpose. As soon as this fund reaches sufficient amount an active program of relief work among dependents of World war veterans will be attempted.

Robert J. Murphy of Nora Springs, Ia., is chief chemin de fer, the principal officer. Lyle D. Tabor, for several years adjutant of the American Legion in Michigan, has been named to the post of correspondent nationale, and is the chief administrative officer located in Indianapolis. Charles W. Ardery of Seattle is auditor nationale. Offices of the society will be located in the buildings of the huge memorial project to be built in Indianapolis, in which space will be provided for the American Legion.

Civic Improvement Is Part of Legion's Work

That the American Legion is organized for selfish purposes for veterans only is easily refuted by the thousand of instances where community development is made subservient to all else. News of Legion participation in every phase of civic betterment is received at national headquarters daily, and recountal of this gives rise to the belief that the Legion is rapidly becoming one of the foremost movements in the nation for progress of the community.

The interest attached to many of these instances of participation by the Legion men brings realization of the possibilities of the organization to many public officials. One of these, a letter of appreciation of the Legion's effort, was written by Richmond D. Moot, chairman of the city planning commission of Schenectady, N. Y., who came forward with a letter of endorsement of the Legion's work in his city. The letter follows:

"The men who served their country in the World war have found another field of service in time of peace and within the last few years, the Schenectady post of the American Legion has become the leading organization for civic betterment. Single-handed, it secured the creation of the city planning commission to plan the future of the city; it stopped the illegal issuance of sewer bonds; it created a joint committee to study the city's finances; it assisted the naturalization authorities in securing better knowledge of the English language on the part of applicants for citizenship; it has organized and conducted the series of public meetings to welcome new citizens; it has conducted a series of essay contests, the latest being on the civic questions in founding city planning in the public schools; and annually furnishes the schools, both inside and outside the city, with a large number of speakers for all patriotic occasions. It neither fears nor favors any little group or selfish interest, and its members are being drafted in increasing numbers for public service. The Legion has become and is destined to continue the greatest force for constructive civic improvement."
